Nestled in Southern California's Montecito foothills, San Ysidro Ranch—where Jackie and JFK honeymooned and Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier exchanged vows at midnight with Katharine Hepburn as a witness (in what's now called "the wedding lawn," above)—has long been one of the country's most romantic and private places to escape. Now, after a major restoration, the property's 40 eclectic, Provençal-style cottages are more inviting than ever. sanysidoranch.com
